1. On 12 August Subject was dropped from the Basic Paramilitary Course, at his own request, due to the aggravated condition of his right arm that had been injured while playing tennis two weeks prior to enrolling in the PM Course. Subject stated that he was enrolled in the PM Course with the understanding that if his arm could not withstand the rigorous training he could drop out.

2. It was agreed by all concerned that it would be wise for Subject to be dropped from the course to prevent possible permanent damage to his arm.

3. Subject has been an excellent student during the two weeks he participated in this course. All of the Instructors who have been in contact with him have pointed him out as one of the better students in the class, sincere, conscientious and attentive. It is his desire to return for the next PM Course and we all hope that he can return.
